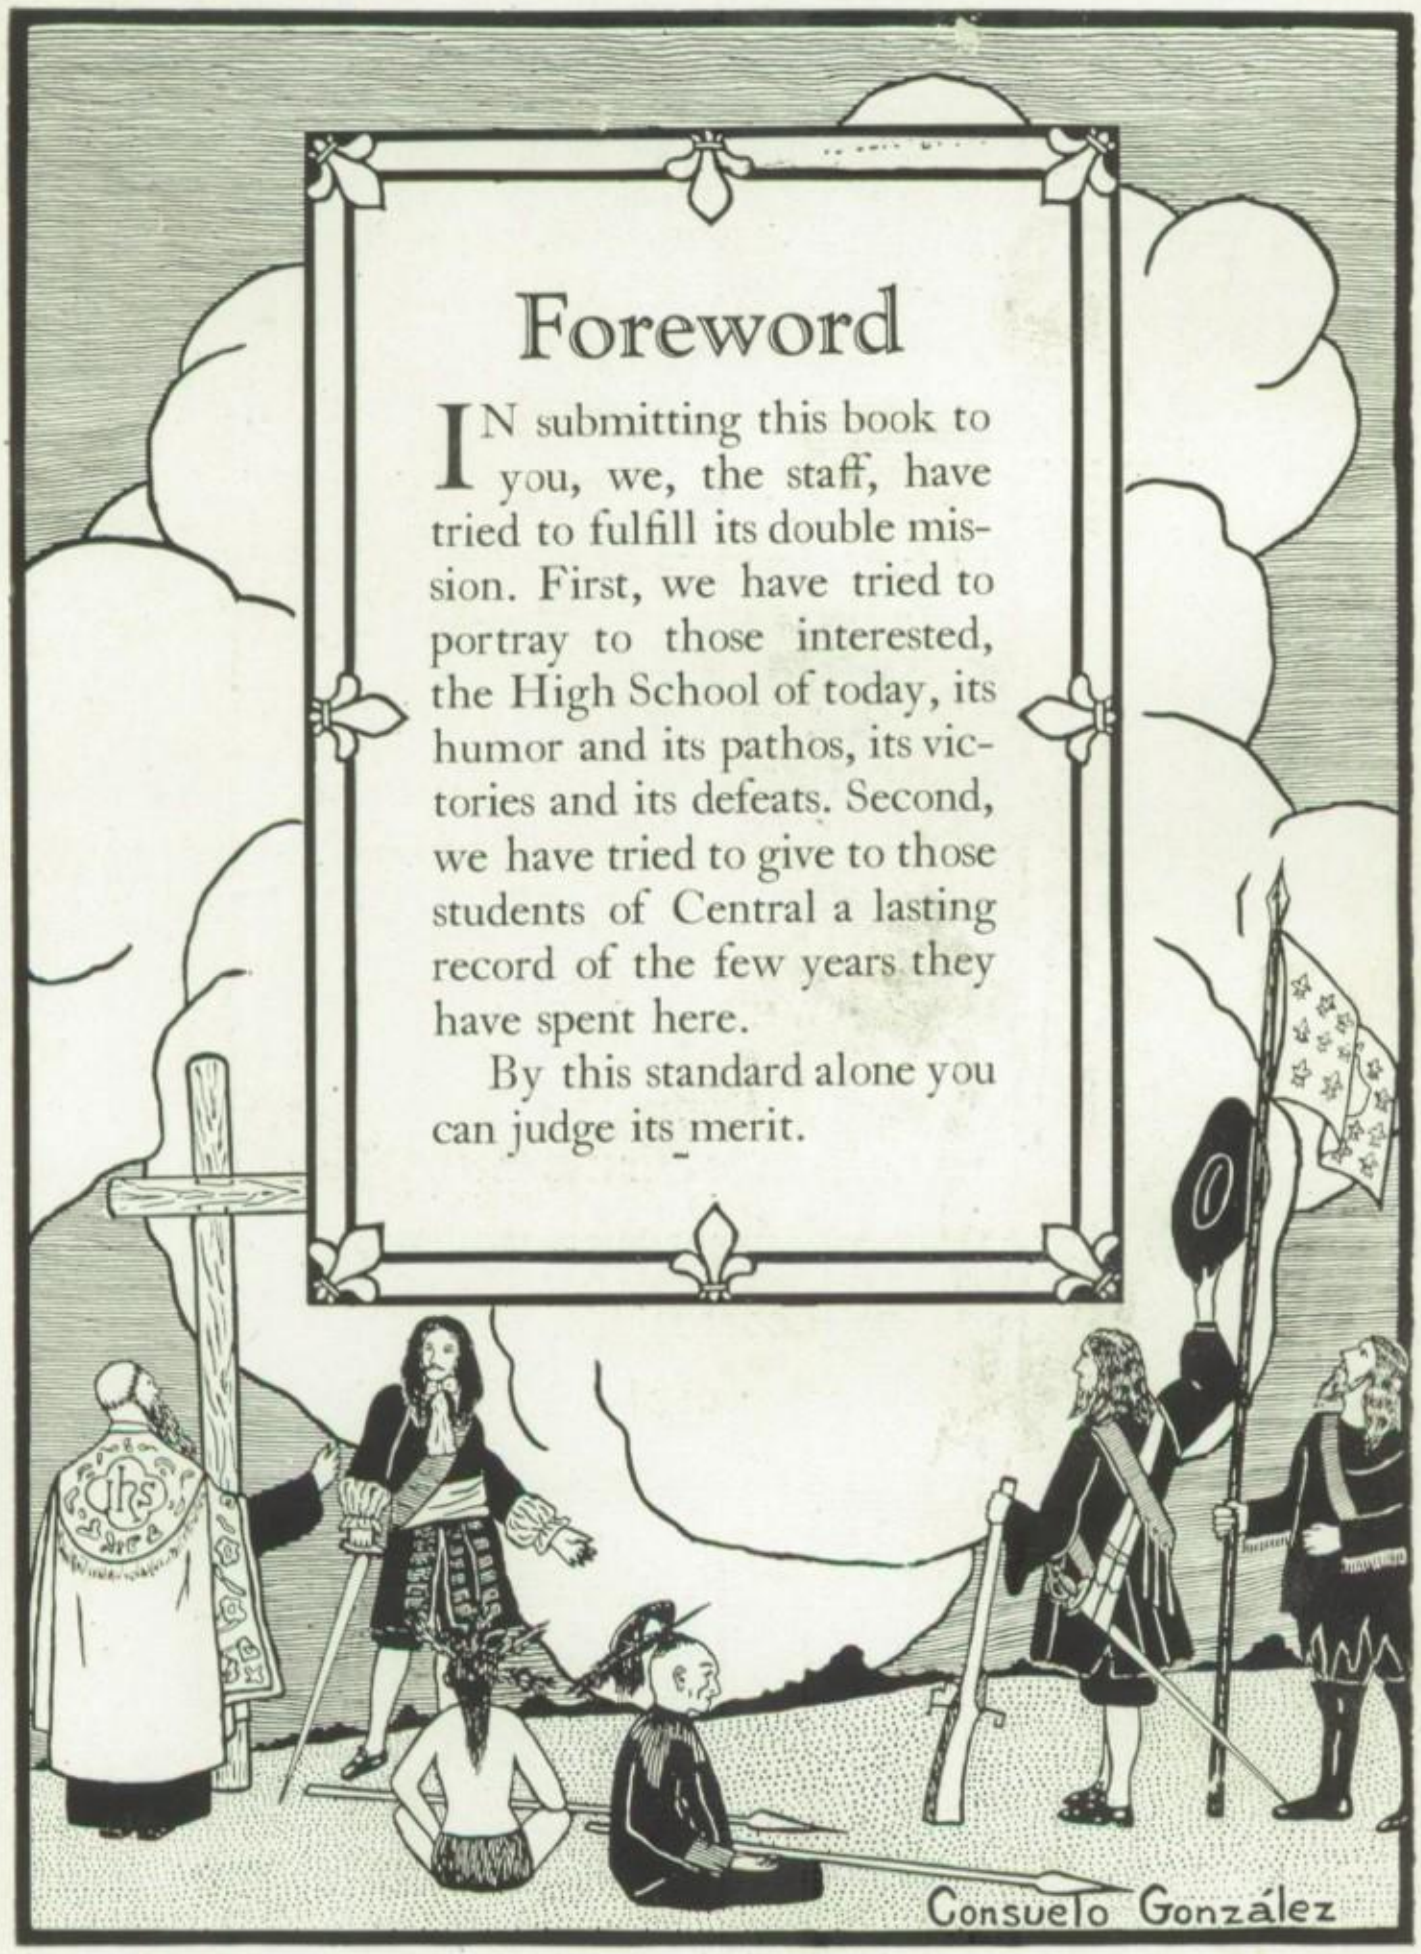
Foreword

IN submitting this book to you, we, the staff, have tried to fulfill its double mission. First, we have tried to portray to those interested, the High School of today, its humor and its pathos, its victories and its defeats. Second, we have tried to give to those students of Central a lasting record of the few years they have spent here.

By this standard alone you can judge its merit.



MANY KNOW HIM
AS A COACH,
SOME
KNOW HIM AS A TRUE SPORTSMAN,
BUT FEW KNOW HIM AS THE GREAT INVISIBLE LEADER THAT HE IS.
HE HAS DONE MUCH
IN HIS FIFTEEN YEARS WITH CENTRAL TO MAKE IT
WHAT IT IS TODAY.
BECAUSE OF THIS AND
BECAUSE OF HIS UNTIRING WORK
ON THE COSMOS WE GRATE-FULLY DEDICATE THIS BOOK TO

Top row: "Dutch" Hohn, Assistant Coach, DeWolf, Chamberlain, Dickey, Crewdson, Morgan, J. Butler, Toland, Woolford, Jeter, Norman, F. Halla, "Doc" Simons, Coach.

2nd row: Campbell, Keith, Hailey, Cary, Atchison, Garrett, Tigner, Sullivan, W. Halla, Moody.

On ground: T. Butler, Calvin.

KATTMANN—Quarterback—Captain

Just what position Bruce played is still an uncertainty, but that he called signals and was captain has been proved. His specialty in football is to play three or four positions at once. Many of our own second team, as well as opponents, will remember him for his straight-arm as well as for his wonderful sportsmanship.

F. HALLA—Tackle—Captain-elect

As it is impossible to say just what makes an all-around tackle, so it is impossible to say just why Frankie is good at football. He tried at first to keep it a secret that he was in every play, but somehow the other side always managed to find it out before the game was very far along. Frankie hopes he will have better luck with health when he is captain next year.

CARY—Back

"Tuffy" can't help being small, and by nature he is tender-hearted. Sometimes, however, he would forget himself and completely down an opposing end that tried to break through his territory. "Tuffy" not only helped the team by his ability and experience but also by his unlimited amount of "pep" and hopefulness.

TIGNER—End

Sam gained his early football training at Allen Academy where he accidentally made a touchdown, grew conceited as a consequence and decided to give Central the benefit of his prowess. Sam very often went down but he generally managed to carry two or three opponents with him.

MORGAN—Tackle

"Foots" played at tackle with a nonchalance that made the game easy for him and difficult for the opposing player. The yell leaders were instructed to keep up a continual clamor of "rah-rahs" so that he would not doze during the game. "Foots" was usually the first one through the opponent's line; not because of speed, but because nothing could stop him.

SULLIVAN—Center

For some unknown reason Clabber seemed to think he was good and always succeeded in making the stands agree. And when it comes to shooting the ball where you want it and getting your man, too, Sully is all right! Besides being center he holds the unofficial injury championship for high schools. He must play too hard!

W. HALLA—Tackle and Guard

"Willie" used all his mental as well as physical talents in the game. He would don his nose guard, screw up his face, tear holes in his socks and rush out on to the field like a charging rhinoceros. Those few opposing players who doubted his viciousness soon found out that his bite was as bad as his bark.

DELERY—Back

"Red" has one striking advantage over the ordinary back, besides the combination of weight, speed and strength. His hair dazzles the other players and puts them off their guard. Perhaps this explains how he was able to get through a supposedly iron-clad line. He did it anyway!

La Boa—Guard

"A man cannot serve two masters." So sayeth not "Skinner." He is one of the few mortals who serves successfully two masters. The first and best known is football. That he does this justice, no one questions. The second, and if possible greater, is his appetite. That he does this justice, no one who knows him can question.

Toland—End

Toward the end of the season Toland became quite a familiar sight on the field, and his black cap, though hardly serviceable as a headgear, did very well to mark him from the other members of the team. All through the season Toland gave a good example of hard playing and good sportsmanship.

Garrett—Guard and Tackle

An injured hand kept Garrett out of several games that he would have otherwise been in. But when he was in, there could be no doubt that he knew his game. Plenty of experience made him a very valuable player. Garrett's favorite occupation between games was to fly airplanes.

Moody—Back

It is universally granted that if any other player had as big feet as Baxter he might have a chance of equalling him in kicking. But then players who wear a Number 10 shoe are rare. This eel-hipped runner's specialty was not to be where the opposing tackle expected him to be. Baxter also made more non-scoring touchdowns than any other man in this part of the state.

JOHNSTON—Back

Murray's biggest fault was that he went so fast that he not only puzzled the opposing team but our team also. When on ordinary dry land, he is quite a respectable young man, but when he was in a game he fought and ran from the first whistle to the last. The game over, he was once again the plain, peaceable Murray.

PUTNAM—End

Just where and when "Diana" originated, just why he happened to be out of jail during the football season, and just how he managed to get into Central are vague uncertainties; but his grace in covering kicks and catching passes was a sight for sore eyes. He has even been known to go through the motions of a swan dive and still retain the ball.

ATCHISON—End and Back

Charlie played end and back on the team and took a fiendish delight in mutilating the opposing players. He has been known to tackle an adversary just to hear him grunt! Charlie was also an expert on some of the practice exercises and would be a good Charlestoner if he were bold enough.

DICKEY—Guard

Dickey's cardinal virtues are in his hair. That such a youngster should be playing high school football comes as quite a shock, but what "Red" lacks in years he makes up for in size and ambition. He hopes to become an all-state tackle some day and he has the courage of his convictions.

Football Season of '25

The football season of 1925 will go down in history as one of Central's most successful years. The schedule was by far the hardest she ever had, and the record she made of seven victories, one tie and only three defeats made the school proud of her team.

When practice started in September, Central's outlook certainly was not very good. With one letter man, as a nucleus, and plenty of new material, "Doc" Simons began to form a team that was a surprise even to Central herself.

On Friday, September 25, the whole squad, consisting of some forty members, drove over to Conroe for the initial game. It had been raining all day and was still raining at noon when they started. By the time for the game the sky had cleared but the field was wet and muddy for the battle. It was quite evident after the first few minutes of the game that Conroe could not score on us. However, the team's lack of experience in working together soon showed up in Central, and, although they could get the ball almost down to the enemy goal line they always lost the ball there by a fumble. So while we carried the ball from one end of the field to the other by first downs, they carried it from one end of the field to the other by fumbles, and the game ended, as such games do, in a 0 to 0 deadlock. The Conroe team, even so, must be praised for their grit and teamwork.

In the second game the Tigers ran up against the strong and well-seasoned South End Bears. Old Sol did his share in the game, and the field was almost unbearably hot from the start to the finish. South End fought nobly, and there were several times when even Central supporters were dubious as to the outcome. A pass from Moody to Kattmann, however, saved the day, and the game ended with South End holding to the zero of a 7 to 0 score.

Central met the next victim, Brackenridge High School, at West End Park. It was not without some misgivings that the team charged out onto the field. The weather was fine and both teams were fit and ready for the game. The two elevens were well matched, but the Brackenridge Eagles had not counted on Kattmann. His "educated toe," as it was so often called, paved the way to victory by kicking two well-placed field goals, one in each half. Thus it ended, with a 6 to 0 victory for the well-deserving Tigers.

The next week, October 17, the team found itself on the field at "Santone" against an arch-enemy, Main Avenue. This veteran team greatly outweighed ours and was given the odds by many. Much against the will of the Main Avenue Crimsons, though, Kattmann made a field goal in the first half. Later, after a pass to "Diana" Putnam, who had immediately placed the pigskin behind the goal, he scored another point, making the total of 10 points for the Tigers. It might also be added that Main Avenue was less fortunate and did not score a point.

The following week, out at West End Park, saw Central's loss. The Shreveport Yellow Jackets played like the veterans they were. In the first half Central played an offensive game and, just before the half was over, they scored a field goal. In the second half, however, Shreveport came back with renewed vigor, and the Tigers were thrown altogether on the defensive. It is hard work to keep out of the reach of a Yellow Jacket's sting, and Central was not ready for the task. Before the last quarter Shreveport had tied the score with a field goal, and Central was being hard pressed. They did well, though, and kept their opponents from gaining until the last few minutes. It was then that all hope of being undefeated was lost. Shreveport crossed the goal by a fake pass and their leader added the point. The time was too short for recovery, and the final whistle blew with the score 10 to 3, the first time Central had been beaten this year and the first time their goal had been crossed.

After this game "Doc" oiled his fighting machine, repaired all weak spots, and the next Saturday went down to meet Port Arthur. The game started well for Central and before the half was reached Port Arthur was left in the distance. In the second half all the substitutes present were used, but the result was no more encouraging for the home team. When the dust of the battle had cleared, and peace was again restored, Central had a 40 to 0 score in her favor.

Pine Bluff, from its name, is backwoods country. Perhaps it is; perhaps it isn't! Anyway, they certainly turn out football teams. The Tiger team went up there with the determination to get another victory, and came back with nothing but praise for the Pine Bluff team. It was a rainy day, and the backs who were ordinarily slippery were more so than ever that day. Central fought well and represented Texas with as good football as possible, but to no avail. The conflict ended 25 to 3 in Pine Bluff's favor.

On November 14, Central moved "en masse" down to Galveston. Perhaps because of the college game in town that day there were not so many rooters as might have been expected; still, the Central stands were as well filled as those of Ball High. Our team then proceeded to hang up the annual victory over the Island City team. It was well hung, notwithstanding the incidental touchdown made by Galveston. It was in this game that Moody ran for so many touchdowns, most of which were called back for one reason or another. Nevertheless Central accumulated a score of 30 to Ball High's 7.

After playing out of town for three weeks, Central came back to the familiar West End to close her season. The first opposition was in the form of Austin High. It had been rumored that Austin had a real team, and this was doubly impressed on all spectators as the game opened. When Kattmann started the ball rolling at the kick-off, the captain of Austin grabbed it and started for a touchdown. From the sidelines it looked disastrous, but the run was called back part way for out of bounds. The game went on more evenly after that, and towards the end of the half a pass from Moody to Kattmann resulted in the Tigers' lone touchdown. The rest of the game, though full of spectacular runs, did not net anything for either side, and the game ended with a 6 to 0 score for Central.

The day after Thanksgiving the Tigers met the Toms. Perhaps this was the most spectacular game of the season. In the first half it appeared often as if the teams were playing basketball and were dribbling the ball. At any rate the ball was almost on the enemy's goal line when a St. Thomas player scooped up a fumble and raced the full length of the field for a touchdown. Then, a few plays later, Central made a fumble in midfield which likewise was picked up by a Tom's player, but the latter did not quite reach the goal before he was downed. The rest of the half was a mass of fumbles and lack of team-work. Just what tonic "Doc" used to revive the team between halves is either unknown or unavailable for publication, but it was a different team that went out onto the field after the intermission. The touchdowns were made to order in quick succession, and when the bewildered St. Thomas team left the field, the score was pointing to Central 27 to 6.

Little need be said about the Heights-Central game. Everyone knows what happened. The Tigers were beaten, but the fight they put up against the Bulldogs will be long remembered. Because both sides were nervous and perhaps over-anxious, they have been criticised for the many fumbles. Central did not make more fumbles than Heights, but they certainly did not recover them in as advantageous places as did the Bulldogs.

All the Central team played as they never played before, but one word spelled their defeat; it was Martellra of Heights. The game ended 19 to 12 and gave the Bulldogs the city championship for the first time in four years.

Next year with Frankie Halla as leader and with Sullivan and Cary back to help Central again, we should have even more success than this year.

Top row: J. Butler, Keith, Sherman (Coach), Calvin, Darby.
In front: "Mascot" Sherman.

NORMAN—Center—Captain

When Dr. Naismith invented the game of basketball, he must have had Harry in mind because he certainly made a place to fit him. Harry is tall and angular, just as a center is supposed to be, and he also has great skill at looping baskets, as an ideal center should have.

BUTLER—Guard

James certainly likes to get his hands on the ball, especially if it inconveniences his opponents. But to be a good guard one must enjoy this and be able to accomplish it. Perhaps this explains why Jimmie is good at guarding. Then, too, a detour around him takes lots of time.

SULLIVAN—Forward

"Sully" used a lot of good effort during the season, but all to no avail. Someone had told him that he could entertain the enemy and amuse them by hitting the basket with the ball. This he did continually, but the entertainment always fell through, as did the ball! And so he has stopped trying to please the heartless creatures.

CARY—Forward and Guard

There is a saying that one should have an avocation as well as a vocation, and this "Tuffy" did. Which was his vocation and which his avocation is hard to determine; one was guarding and the other playing forward. The variety brought great recreation and improved his playing to such an extent that he not only could shoot at the basket but could very often score.

MOODY—Forward

Baxter also received a letter.

DICKEY—Guard

"Red" spent his odd minutes in trying to get the ball within five feet of the basket, but all to no avail. This was not fatal, however, as all during the game he was conspicuous because of his effective guarding of the basket by jumping up and practically knocking the ball from it. This jumping should give him high ideals and a broad point of view.

CALVIN—Forward

No one knows why Aubrey waited until his last year in high school before going out for basketball, but such is the case. He certainly did his best to make up for the years he lost. He even got to practice early one day and astounded every one. If Aubrey keeps on climbing he will surely become a president or vice president or basketball coach or something.

DARBY—Center and Guard

Mitchell never does anything by degrees. The day after the last game he was found breaking training to perfection by eating a great big strawberry sundae. It is said he has to duck to go under the baskets. Whether this is true or not, everyone has to look up to him; they say, too, that his basketball is almost as good as his tennis.

FAUBION—Forward

"Boots" never wins the friendship of opponents—at least during a game. It is hard to decide whether this is due to his personality or to his apparent enjoyment in torturing the opponents by playing "Button, button, who's got the button?" with the ball. It must be the latter because of his popularity after the game.

Basketball Season of 1925-'26

A team of any kind that deserves honor must be a good loser as well as a good winner. It very often happens that luck is against one, or that players are out. But if there are no alibis, if one plays the game hard and loses—it is not to one's discredit.

By this standard, which is the only true standard of a team, Central's basketball team of 1925-26 rates among the best. It mattered not which way the decision fell, the result was the same. The team did its best.

When the season opened Coach Sherman had only one letter man to build a team around. However, there was plenty of raw material, and it was not long before things were in shape for the first game.

Our first opponent and likewise our first victim was the St. Thomas five. The first half of the game showed the two teams about equal in strength, but the Toms had teamwork while the Tigers' game was made up of individual playing for the most part. Nevertheless, when the final whistle blew, Central had 13 points to St. Thomas 6.

Austin High was the next to appear on the scene. This team was well seasoned and played together well, and before the Tigers were aware of what was happening, they were seven points behind. After the half, Central's team appeared with new energy, but still Austin gained. Five minutes before the end, however, when the score stood 24 to 12 a late and frenzied rally started. It was too late, though, and the game ended 22 to 26.

The Texas Sporting Goods team came next and the combination of both teams furnished the spectators with thrills. The Indians were too much for the Tigers, but they had to fight hard before they could make off with the scalp. Even in his death struggle, the Tiger caused much commotion, but the game ended with 28 to 22 in favor of the Indians.

It is seldom that a basketball team is an expert on Latin, and Central's is no exception. Quo Vadis stumped the boys and before they realized its meaning—whither goest thou—the others were on their way. The lead was too much and the game ended 15 to 37 with Central on the little end and the "wenters" on the big.

Main Avenue of San Antonio journeyed here to see a city and to play basketball. Whether or not they saw the city we do not know, but they did play basketball. When the last whistle blew our boys were in the background and the Santone Wolves left with a 24 to 23 victory in their jaws.

The next week saw the beginning of the race for district honors. Central met the Bears of South End at the City Auditorium and reminded them that the Tiger is the king of the forests. The Bears seemed unwilling to realize this until it was pounded in by a score of 22 to 18.

After having broken their losing spell the Tigers journeyed to San Antonio with revenge in their minds. Main Avenue did her best to see that no revenge was had, but she was powerless and had finally to submit to a 55 to 31 score.

From there the quintet migrated to Austin with the same purpose in mind—revenge. It was a good intention but that was all, and even that was soon lost in the battle that took place. So the Tigers had to be content with a 32 to 28 score in favor of the home team.

The next game or fight will probably be one of the longest remembered of any in Central's history. With all odds in favor of Heights, Central went in "to do or die" and they did. The Bulldogs did not expect the terrific onslaught and they quickly went under—only to come up fighting. The lead was too much and the game turned into a hand-to-hand fight when the score was announced as 17 to 20 in favor of Central.

There were three more teams in the way of the district championship. The first, West Columbia, was soon laid aside and salted down to the tune of 26 to 16. The second, Palacios, was set aside even more unceremoniously by a 49 to 15 score.

The last was the Galveston five. The Golden Tornadoes, however, picked the Tigers up by the tail and set them down on the wrong side of the line. The game ended 24 to 23, and Galveston was acclaimed district champion.

Central now returned to Houston and made a last desperate attempt to capture the city championship. South End was met with about the same result as before and we led them with a score of 28 to 17.

The last and probably one of the strangest games in basketball history was with the Heights Bulldogs. Because of the row which had followed the previous Heights-Central game, all supporters of the teams were barred. The phantom game, as it might easily be called, was viewed by no spectators and the players were cheered by no rooters. The silence and the strangeness of the setting had a bad effect on our boys and they made only one basket during the entire first half. The second half was a great deal better, but, as had often been the case before, the lead was too great and the last scene of the tragedy ended 17 to 26.

With "Red" Dickey and perhaps Jimmie Butler back next year, Central should have a team that will hold up the standards of Central.

Athletic Council Banquet

On the evening of Thursday, December 17, the University Club provided the setting for the banquet given by the Athletic Council of Central.

The Christmas motif was evident throughout the table decorations. Miniature Christmas trees bearing cards marked the places, while trees of a larger size decorated with candles and tiny ornaments were spaced at intervals along the horseshoe shaped table. The middle of the table was banked with smilax and poinsettas.

After the five course dinner Mr. Moyes introduced the speaker of the evening, Dr. Oberholtzer, who made a very interesting talk on student spirit and sportsmanship. Then Mr. Simons, the coach, gave a short talk on the past football season. At the close, he awarded the letters to the team. The captain, Bruce Kattman presented Mr. Simons with a leather key-retainer and bill folder, which contained a five dollar gold piece for "little Doc," and the sponsor, Jane Gohlman, with a small gold football as tokens of the team's appreciation of their loyalty. Then the letter men elected Frank Halla captain for the coming year.

After the banquet the guests adjourned to the club ballroom where they danced.

Among those present were Dr. and Mrs. Oberholtzer, Mr. and Mrs. Black, Mr. and Mrs. Moyes, Mr. and Mrs. Simons, Miss Patterson, Mr. Duncan, Miss Weinburg, Mr. Watson and Major Bronson.

The Mid-Winter Hop

On the evening of January 28, the Turnverein Hall was the scene of one of the most brilliant affairs of the season, the hop sponsored by the Mid-Winter graduating class of Central High School.

The ballroom was attractively decorated with streamers of black and gold and many colored balloons. A massive tiger head was suspended over the stage.

The president of the class, Mr. Francis Fischer led the grand march, honoring Miss Beryl Young.

Favors consisting of ridiculous little hats and serpentines were distributed to some three hundred guests. Eddie's Syncopaters furnished the music for the evening. Punch was served at a charmingly decorated table.

Among the guests were Mr. Simons, Miss Greenhill, Mr. King, Mrs. Griffith, Mr. Bishkin, Mr. Johnston, Miss Weinberg, and Mr. Harris.

Mid-Winter Picnic

On Jan. 22, 1926, in spite of the warning of Jupiter Pluvius and the pleas of Brother Northwind, the Mid-Winter Graduates gave their annual picnic at Sylvan Beach.

The members of the class departed at 9:30; some in automobiles and some in Fords. However, sleighs would have been much more appropriate. By 11:30 everyone had arrived and the remainder of the A. M. was spent in tripping the light fantastic. It was a bad day for those who would rather have sat out their dances in the back seat of some car—or Ford.

Lunch was served at about 1:00 o'clock and the tables were decorated with Central colors—the black of the spilt coffee and the yellow of the stuffed eggs. But strange to say, the artistically decorated tables had little to do with the appetites of those hungry humans known as Centralites.

After lunch the dancing was resumed and it was unanimously agreed that the music was the only thing "hot" on the whole picnic. At about 3:00 the giftorians gave out, and were carried home.

The dancing continued 'til the chaperones finally reached a verdict of "guilty" and everyone started for home.

"And a good time was had by all"

The Jeffersonian Dance

The new University Club was the scene of probably the most elaborate high school affair ever given. On the evening of February 12, sponsored by Mr. Bishkin, the Jeffersonian Debating Club entertained with a dance.

The Club was skillfully, as well as attractively, decorated in Jeffersonian colors, purple and gold. Thirteen enormous valentines hung from the ceiling. They were strung the length of the dance floor, each valentine bearing a gold letter, which when put together, spelt the name of the club. During the evening the central lights were turned off and a flashlight played on the valentines and on the many colored balloons marked with J. D. C.

Continuous music was furnished by Fatty Martin's orchestra and by Blanchard's orchestra.

The chaperones included Mr. and Mrs. Moyes, Mr. Harris, and Mr. Johnston.

Plans for the Senior Class

Plans for the Senior Hop of the June graduating class of Central are rapidly being completed. The dance is to be given at the End O' Main on the 2nd of June. The scheme for the decorations is to be that of a circus; this idea will be carried out in the refreshments and favors. The committee has not yet decided upon the orchestra. However, the programs have been ordered from The Star Engraving Co.

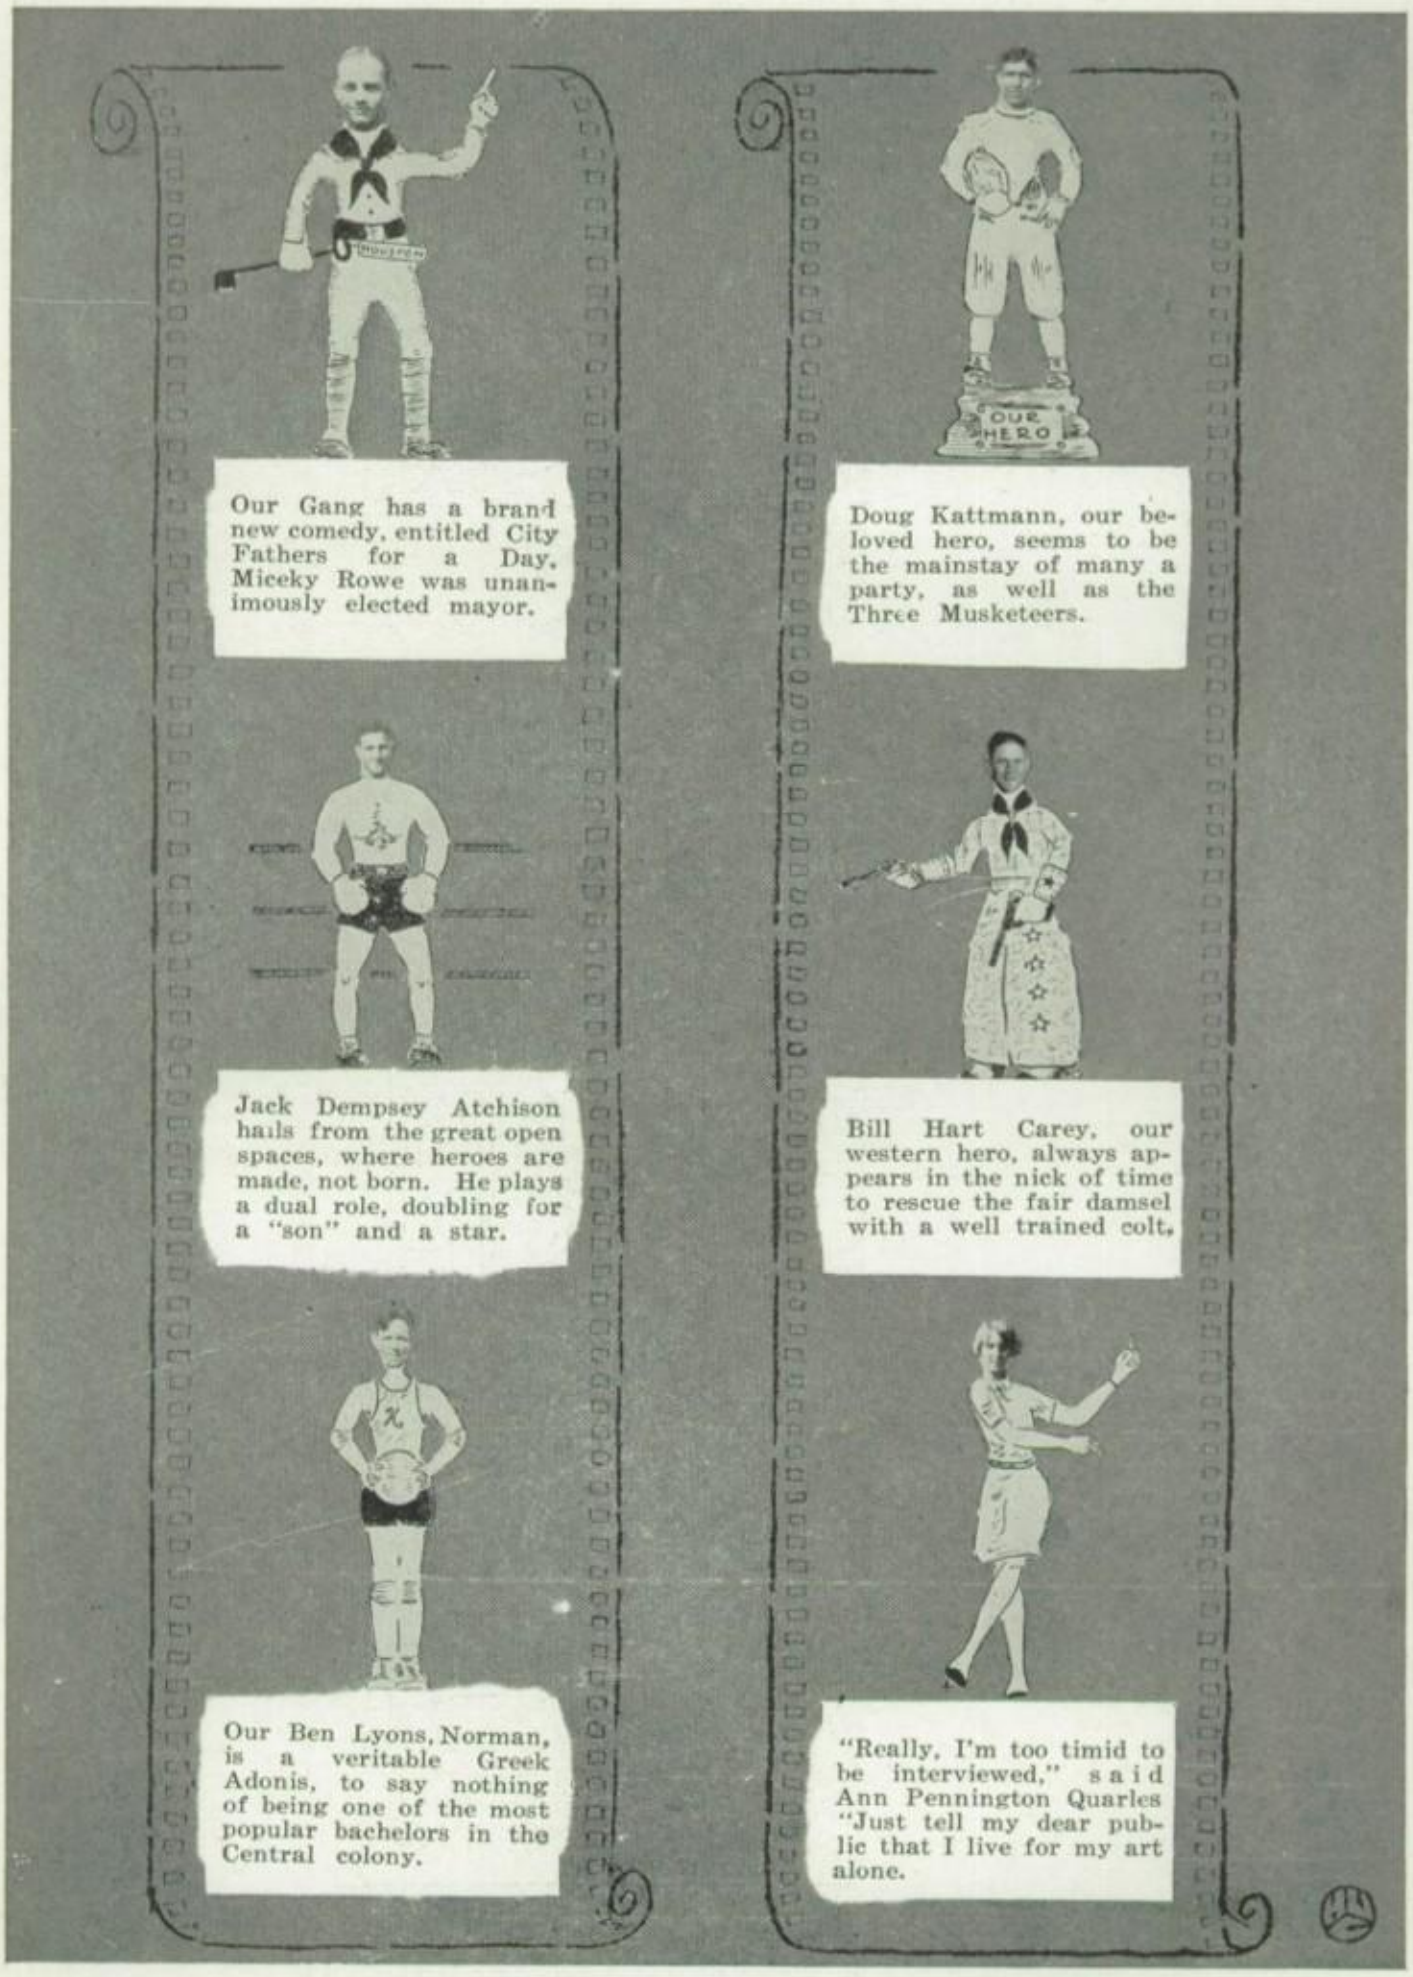
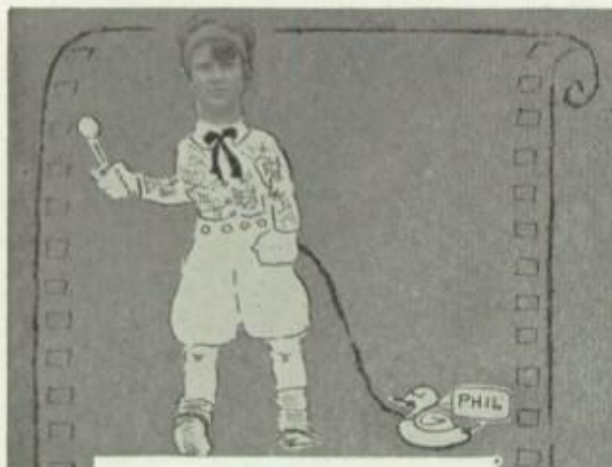
Pathetic



Our Gang has a brand new comedy, entitled City Fathers for a Day. Miceky Rowe was unanimously elected mayor.
Doug Kattmann, our beloved hero, seems to be the mainstay of many a party, as well as the Three Musketeers.
OUR HERO
Jack Dempsey Atchison hails from the great open spaces, where heroes are made, not born. He plays a dual role, doubling for a "son" and a star.
Bill Hart Carey, our western hero, always appears in the nick of time to rescue the fair damsel with a well trained colt.
Our Ben Lyons, Norman, is a veritable Greek Adonis, to say nothing of being one of the most popular bachelors in the Central colony.
"Really, I'm too timid to be interviewed," said Ann Pennington Quarles "Just tell my dear public that I live for my art alone.

News Reel



Baby Peggy, our naive, irresistible, H o m oiselle H a d e n, won undying fame in her picture, The Ugly Ducklin. The ducklin was the "Swaine."

Our Lois Wilson, alias Mildred Heyne, is galloping on her way to fame. She is an actress of ability, very popular and constantly in demand.

Our Dick Barthelmess, Al Forbes, is extra good. He admits it. He won fame in Broken Blossoms, his path is strewn with fair flowers he has cast aside.

Our Sweetheart of the Scream, Jane Gohlman, owes a large measure of her success to the habit of casting bouquets. She has tamed Bull Dogs with them.

Of course, no movie colony is free from that bane, the perfect lover. We present Rudy Moody, the ideal of every girl, the despair of every boy.

Marion Davies Hill, the crinoline belle, is quite the latest crush, and her services are constantly in demand.

Our Menagerie

There seems to be a good deal of truth in the old saying that Central is a "house of many parts." Here lately the rather strange, if not startling discovery has been made that there is a Menagerie existing within these four walls. True somewhat sub-rosa, but nevertheless we receive a rather severe shock when we think of walking calmly through the corridors at the side of some ferocious beast of the great open spaces. Well, heroes are born, not made as some one so quaintly put it.

To conform with the rules of Zoo etiquette, it is proper to introduce the animal of highest social standing first. Of course we have a social status, hasn't every prominent organization. Only those who are able to pass an intelligence test are admitted within the walls of the Zoo.

First comes our society leader, our Leo, alias Gabriel Johnson. Of course not that he tries to be lionized by the ladies, far be it from this timid creature—but simply that he is a great talker and never in a happier frame of mind than when roaring forth some oration.

Next on the social list comes our Giraffes—Catherine Walker and Herman Lloyd—they come from a family of far reaching influence and have added much to the menagerie with their dignified, graceful manners.

Our Love-birds, Bill and Coo, hold a high place in the hearts of all the animals and are constantly in demand. Even in our cultured Zoo Society when someone passes Phil and Homoiselle he can hardly refrain from saying "O ain't love grand?"

We have a very distinguished Zebra, Mitchell Darby, near the head of our list. Whether of Russian or Bolshevik descent is very hard to prove but that he is of noble lineage is unquestionable. He is artistically marked with stripes of a brilliant vermillion hue extending from slightly above his ankles to the tips of his toes. We consider this a positive proof of his nobility (though some heartless wretches have stated that the socks came from Kress).

Since even in Zoo society sets, beauty comes before age, we next come to our Peacock, Irwin Hill. He is one of the chief attractions, and undoubtedly the most exhibited specimen in our menagerie. He is very fortunate in one respect, being saved the horrible disillusionment of most peacocks—he wears Oxford Bags.

Several families of Bears have been placed on the list of the mighty. The representative of the Hugging Bear family is Miss Fanny Beth Hall. She has a very deep affection for her books, and is always hugging them. The Sheik of the Bears is Donald Poole, the Dancing Bear. He is constantly in demand as a Charleston partner, and has helped many a pretty maid dance out a pair of slippers. Lo, the poor parents. Baxter Moody, the Honey Bear, is the proud possessor of a wonderful instinct as to where Sweets are to be found, and running true to form, very seldom gets stung. The last representative of the Bear family is Aubrey Calvin, the Growley Bear. He is an extremely gruff and aggressive fellow, very hard to get along with, easy to fly off the handle, but a wonderful leader.

Since there is always one member to uphold the wisdom of the set, our wise old Owl, Branch Masterson, is next in Zoo society. He's a very worldly wise old codger, and when he starts hooting, everyone is compelled to listen. (Force has never been resorted to yet).

Through his remarkable skill as an earwiggler Alex Fraser, a lowly Jack Rabbit, has leaped to the front in Zoo society news. He is now the chief amuser of this exclusive list, and is always in demand by the mothers of fractious Zoo children.

There are a great number of Dears in this ultra modern Zoo but of course, these aren't the commonplace Reindeer kind, these are the more popular Dear-dear kind. Dear Mildred Heyne, and Dear Helen Ellsworth are two of the most popular Zoo debutants this season.

Defending the honor of the entire Zoo family, you find Tiger Kattmann. He wages an effective battle against all enemies of the Zoo, and even the Bull Dogs bark in a minor key when he roams abroad.

The next members of the Zoological younger set are J. O. Jackson and Rockwell Rowe, our two Hyenas. These animals were admitted within the circle because of their peculiarly keen sense of humor—they have even been known to laugh in trig class.

Strange as it may seem to the ordinary world, the Mouse is a family of endless resource and ranks high in the esteem of the Zoo inmates. All types are represented from our timid Dorothy Bethany to bold Jim Breeding.

Hope springs eternal even in the animal breast and there is one bird of rather unknown type who is forever trying to imitate the other animals. We would be inclined to class Edwin Quinn as a Mocking Bird if it were not for the fact that his chief song is Laudanum—Laudanum—one entirely unknown in the bird kingdom. Of course though he gives a note of extreme distinction to our menagerie.

Since not even the best of society is free from that bane of man's existence—Monkeys—we have a large number of this species at the end of our list. How they got within the bounds of this exclusive number is a mystery still to the heads of the Zoo. But nevertheless they are here—the entire Freshman class—probably thru the influence of their ancestors. We can do nothing whatever about this misfortune but bear our burden like the true, refined, cultured animals we are, and be content with the distinguished members of our select group.

The Zoo reporter has ferreted out a most interesting piece of news. Pursuing the stealthy tactics characteristic of them, the entire Feline family has succeeded in gaining admittance to Cage 337. The ringleader of this "gang" seems to be a Wild Cat—Henry Lee Borden. He goes horribly wild over situations which fail to meet with his approval and mildly wild over pretty girls. In direct contrast with her rowdy cousin is Margaret Ewing, the Pussy Cat, a quiet inoffensive creature who is usually seen and not heard. The most incorrigible members of this family is Cat Vinson Crowder who corrupts the manners of the entire group by skating about among them. The dignified member of this family is the Tabby Cat, Nancy Forbes. She appears sweet and gentle, but she is ever ready to show her claws. Mary Tallichet, the Blue Persian, is a rare type, but alas! the rarer the type the keener the "meow." The last member of these undesirables is Frances Ione Spence, the cat of the Amber Eye. She prowls slyly through the corridors seeking scandal and is very apt to pounce on her prey and give a vicious dig with her merciless claws.

Of course the addition of the Felines is a dark blot on the reputation of the menagerie, but even the best families have skeletons in their closets.

SINE CERA

WHEN Rome was in the height of her glory and the populace had its greatest appreciation for art, there were hundreds of sculptors engaged in creating beautiful statues for the civic temples of that great capital.

So large was the demand for marble that blocks of perfect stone were at a premium. Shrewd craftsmen learned to carve their works of art from less costly but flawed marble, filling the cracks and crevices with beeswax. Thus they obtained the price of perfect work.

Honest sculptors, to guarantee purchasers of genuine value, labeled their statues sine cera, which is Latin for "without wax" & from that we have our modern word "sincere."

So, too, does SWEENEY's mark bear "Sine Cera" to assure all who come here to purchase that the articles they select are true to name and sound in value.

School Days Without "Exams"

You can become a full-fledged telephone operator by taking a short course at telephone training school. There are no school desks or text-books. The lectures are just informal discussions of correct operating methods. Operating technique is obtained by practice on model switchboards. Following this the qualified student operator takes her place on the subscriber's switchboard. Telephone operators receive liberal pay while learning, and frequent increases follow. The work is as interesting and dignified as any available to young women.

Miss Burdick, the school principal, invites you to visit the Preston office at Capitol and San Jacinto Streets, on afternoons from two to five.
